Olive Tree
COMMUNICATIONS

A San Francisco Computer Store vendor.

Olive Tree Communications

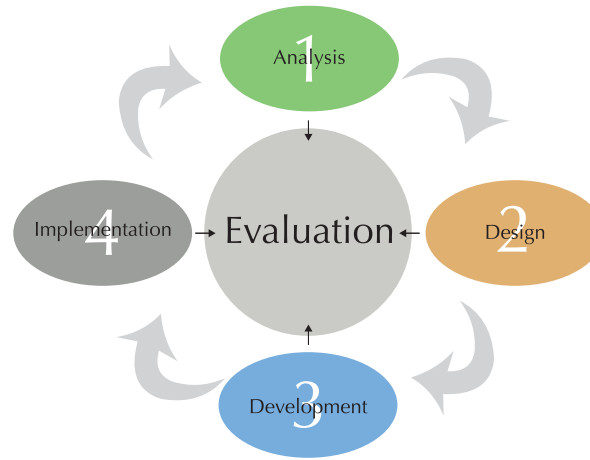

Customized training for today's workforce.

Olive Tree is a communication design firm offering technology training for educational, nonprofit and governmental organizations. Our goal is to help learners master the technology skills they need to become more efficient in the workplace.

A Needs-Based Approach

Your organization is as unique as your training needs. At Olive Tree Communications, we work with you to analyze your organizational processes and create a tailored curriculum that matches the way you do business. We use the proven Instructional Systems Design (ISD) model to produce observable results. By analyzing the performance gaps and instructional objectives, we can design a measurable program to guarantee ROI.

Multiple Delivery Solutions

We use our skills in needs assessment, curriculum design, implementation and evaluation to offer training that includes classroom-based, web-based, computer-aided instruction, workbooks and job aids, instructional videos or blended solutions.

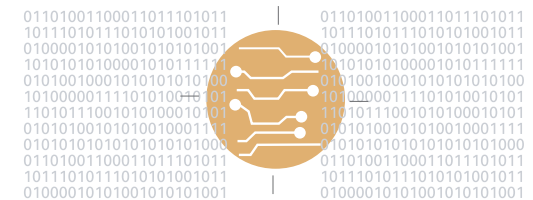

Customized training for today's workforce.

A Variety of Courses

We can provide a wide range of cataloged and custom training for vendors like:

- Microsoft
- Autodesk
- Cisco
- Citrix
- Symantec
- Macromedia
- Others

We also offer training management services to coordinate training delivery and seamlessly blend training from multiple providers.

Experienced Instructors

Our training specialists bring real-world experience directly to your employees, helping them transfer their new skills to their working environment. Our intensive, hands-on classes boast low teacher-to-student ratios, making learning fun and memorable.
